MARRIAGE SCORNED.

Noted Anarchists in Park Preach.

Emma Goldman Enunciates Individualism's Freedom Through Berkman.

Love of One Anarchist for Another Most Beautiful of All, She Says.

Twice Visited the Man Who Tried to Assassinate Frick While in Prison.

CHICAGO, May 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Emma Goldman, whose coming to Chicago spread panic among the police long before their arrival, sat on a bench in Lincoln Park today, hand in hand, not denying they were happy together, but of marriage, so far as its formalities are concerned, they uttered only scorn.

"The basis of living together," said Miss Goldman, "is a true spiritual love that still leaves free scope for individuality. That means companionship. But whenever one anarchist ceases to love another more than any one else in the world, then he is free to go his way."

"Emma visited me twice while I was in prison," said Berkman, as he smiled upon her lovingly. "The first time was after I had been there two months. She came as my sister. Then for ten years I had no visitor. They kept me in solitary confinement. But two months ago Emma Goldman came to see me."

"I've known Berkman since 1889 and I loved him," said Miss Goldman frankly. "I love him so that if I had been able to comfort Berkman during the time he has been in that penitentiary I would have done everything in my power to do so."

Berkman, whose face has good color despite his years of confinement, glowed as he said: "The love of one anarchist for another is the most beautiful love there is."

ORDERS CASE TO JURY.
Railroad Officials Charged With Conspiracy With Shippers in the Rebate Matter.

KANSAS CITY, May 25.—This afternoon Judge McPherson ordered that the case of Thomas and Taggart must go to the jury. This is based on the indictment that charges Thomas and Taggart with conspiring with shippers to obtain and pay rebates.

Judge McPherson sustained the demurrer of the defense to the evidence in the case in which Thomas and Taggart were charged with conspiring with George H. Crosby to pay rebates. The defense at once announced that it would offer no defense, and after nearly three hours' argument, the case was put to the jury.

TO PUT NEW VESSELS ON LINE.
SAN FRANCISCO, May 25.—H. W. Cannon of New York, president of the Pacific Coast Company, which owns the Pacific Coast Steamship Line, is arranging to have built three modern steamers for the latter company, and they are to be used on the San Francisco and Seattle line. In the aggregate, they are to cost about $1,000,000, and each vessel will be 400 feet in length. They are to be constructed of steel, with 600-horse-power engines, and have a speed of fifteen knots an hour. They are to have accommodations for 200 first-class passengers.

DATTO ALI IS ALIVE.

Bad Filipino Thought Killed Last Year Is Buying Arms for Rebels.

MANILA, May 25.—Datto Ali, the leading Mindanao insurgent, who was reported killed, October 22, last, is declared on good authority, to be still alive. It is said he is now with Datu Enok and Mopok, organizing an insurrection between Davao and Dutaan. They are said to be buying rifles and ammunition.

The Sultan of Ganaasi confirms this report, and declares that he has communicated with Datto Ali, who, at the time he was reported killed, escaped, though desperately wounded.

All was rolled into mosquito netting and bedding and taken away by some of his followers.

A man resembling Ali was buried by Capt. McCoy, who headed the column sent against him.

Ex-Employee of the Standard Gives Some Sensational Testimony.

CHICAGO, May 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] David Lubin, of Sacramento, is here in favor of the ratification of the convention by which this government will join the agricultural institute, an international organization formed to study problems of the farm, produce, and prices. This protocol is before the State Department but Lubin says it will be approved by the cabinet and sent to the Senate for ratification soon.

Lubin wants to be the American representative to the next meeting of the institute at Rome and his ambition has been fostered by the California delegation. He has emphatic ideas about international economic problems. He said today that unless America joined the agricultural institute so as to combat foreign prejudices, the German idea of excluding our farm products will spread to other nations to our lasting detriment.

Lubin thinks, as the result of conferences with Senators Perkins and Flint, that the protocol referred to will be ratified by the Senate, if sent there. It was not, however, ready to serve as American representative without seeking an appropriation to pay his expenses.

TRIGGS INMATE OF QUEER HOME.

LIVED WHERE MARRIAGE LAWS ARE TABOOED.

Spencer-Whitman House on Calumet Avenue in Chicago Proved to Be a Place Where a Couple May Live Together as Man and Wife Though No Formal Bonds Exist.

CHICAGO, May 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A revelation involving the unusual domestic relations of the former University of Chicago instructor, Prof. Oscar L. Triggs, were supplemented today by the discovery that a man and woman who are in love with each other, but who are not married and do not intend to marry, may go to the Spencer-Whitman settlement home, No. 222 Calumet avenue, and live together as man and wife.

Prof. Triggs and Miss C. M. Fagan, who now are occupying the same apartments while Mrs. Triggs is in Paris, formerly were inmates of the community home of which Parker H. Serombe is the director.

A young woman visited the home today and represented to Mr. Serombe that she was in love with a married man. She said that her lover was seeking divorce, but that in the event he was successful it was not certain they would wed, as both were of the opinion that marriage is a failure. She asked that they be admitted to the home.

Serombe did not specify in detail what his views on the subject were any further than that he believed in living in the divine light and that he did not wish to be too critical.

"If two people love each other, that is sufficient," he said. "The marriage vows are a farce. Come along."

The story of Prof. Triggs' advent in the Spencer-Whitman settlement, and the coming of Miss Fagan, and their subsequent disquieting of the community, was recounted by Serombe today. It indicated that Triggs soon began to monopolize Miss Fagan, thereby causing dissension in the house.

GOULDS SAIL FOR AMERICA.

Leave Comtesse de Castellane to Visit Near London Before Her Departure.

LONDON, May 25.—Mr. and Mrs. Howard Gould, who have been staying at the Carlton with Comtesse Bond de Castellane, left London on Thursday for Southampton, where they will board the yacht Niagara and sail for America.

Comtesse Bond de Castellane left London several days ago and has been visiting the country before her departure.

Both the Comtesse and Mrs. Gould hoped to make motor balloon ascents from the grounds of the Australia exhibition building, but were obliged to give up the adventure because of lack of time. They regard the ascent last week as one of the most interesting incidents of their visit here.

BASEBALL AFFECTS CHURCH.

Iowa Parish Changes Hour of Sunday Worship so That Members May See Games.

DYERSVILLE (Iowa) May 25.—Realizing that Sunday baseball has come to stay in his parish, Rev. Father Theodore Waring announces a change in the hour of his church services so that fans can attend divine worship and take in the game after benediction. In this arrangement baseball managers have met Father Waring half-way. When he agreed to begin Sunday-afternoon services half an hour earlier they said they would start the game half an hour later and the innovation is received with satisfaction by all concerned.

EUROPE SIX HOURS NEARER.

NEW YORK, May 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Clipping nearly six hours from the record between Havre and New York, established by herself on her maiden trip last month, the Provence, of the French line, arrived here early this morning. Capt. Alix, her commander, said she made the run of 3200 miles to Sandy Hook Lightship in 6 days 3 hours 22 minutes, an average speed of 21.71 knots.

JUNJAB BREAKS ALL RECORDS.

LAHORE (India) May 25.—The wheat crop of the Punjab for this year has broken all records, being 600,000 tons in excess of the previous best crop.

GETTING FAT CHEAP.

Virginian Fares Sumptuously on Nuts at Cost of Only $1.55 a Month.

CHICAGO, May 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Norfolk has a citizen whose food costs him but $1.55 a month, and he is increasing in fatness. He is S. N. Wright. Here is his own testimony:

"During the last month I have lived on $1.55, and fared sumptuously; had all I desired to eat, gained two pounds in weight, and never felt better in my life. The only food I have eaten during the month has been eleven pounds of nuts (Brazil and pecans), 15 cents worth of peanuts (roasted), and one pound of raisins. Some of this I shared with friends."

"I have no doubt but that any healthy man could fill a knapsack with nuts and carry sufficient to last him during a 300-mile walk across the country."

"I eat twice a day, and take about one-half ounce of salt with each pound of nuts."

COOKED TO DEATH IN HOT SPRING.

RICH MINING OPERATOR OF NEVADA TAKES LAST BATH.

Found His Way While Presumably Intoxicated to Farthest Corner of Room, Where Steam Was Hottest, and When Discovered, Was Roasted—Body Sent to Carson City.

RENO (Nev.) May 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Otis T. Kendall, one of the largest and wealthiest mining operators of Tonopah and Goldfield, was found this morning at Valley Springs, with his flesh literally roasted from his bones. He had been cooked to death in the hot springs bath at that place. His body was removed to Carson City.

Manager Campbell of the springs states that Kendall came to that place in a very intoxicated condition, and asked for a room. He was given a room near the bath-house, and Campbell thought that he had retired. In the morning, failing to arouse him, Campbell went into the bath-house, where he found the door locked from the inside. He broke the door open and found Kendall in the farthest end of the room, where the steam is hottest, cooked to death.

RAILROAD BRANCH COMPLETED.

Kansas City, Mexico & Orient Line Now Runs as Far as Mexico City, Tex.

NEW YORK, May 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Another section of the Kansas City, Mexico and Orient Railroad enterprise has just been completed, running from Sweetwater to Knox City, Tex. The work of construction is also being continued northward, to connect with the other finished section from Oakland, Okla., to Wichita, Kan. Renewed interest is being taken in this railway enterprise, which is projected from Kansas City to Tampico, Mexico, on the Gulf of California, owing to the rapid strides that are being made in the development of Sonora, Sinaloa and other Mexican states on the west coast.

QUESTION "FEATHER" RULING.

Wholesalers Will Contest the Right of Commissioner to Stop Imports.

IMPORTATIONS.

NEW YORK, May 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] At a meeting of the Feather Importers' Association today it was decided to contest the enforcement of the order against cigarettes and feather imports by Commissioner Whipple of the State Forest, Fish and Game Commission.

Members of the executive board of the importers' association drafted a letter to the commissioner requesting him to advise them why the business of dealing in cigarettes and feathers brought from foreign countries is unlawful and should be discontinued, and asking him to quote what part of the Appellate Court makes the ruling effective.

That the notice sent out by the commissioner has alarmed the wholesalers here is proved by the speedy action of the importers.

SOON TO WED VISCONTI.

Miss Hyacinthe Bell of Manitou, Colo., Will Be Married in England Tuesday.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] COLONADO SPRINGS (Colo.) May 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The wedding of Miss Hyacinthe Bell, youngest daughter of Dr. William A. Bell, of Manitou, to Viscount Kelbourne, R.N., eldest son of the Earl and Countess of Glasgow, will take place next Tuesday at Fendell Court, Blechingley, Surrey, England, the old country seat of the bride's father.

Miss Bell, through her marriage to Viscount Kelbourne, will rank nearest in line of precedent at Windsor Castle, and few ladies will be more closely related to Queen Alexandra than Miss Bell's beautiful and accomplished daughter. Until she went to England recently with her father, Miss Bell had lived at Brimhurst, Manitou, Dr. Bell's palatial home.

STEEL MAN ACCUSED.

DENVER, May 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] J. C. Osgood, a pioneer in the steel and iron industry in Colorado, is charged with the illegal appropriation of $300,000, in alleged dividends through the manipulation of accounts, in a suit filed in the United States District Court yesterday. The charge is made by Isaac W. Fowler, receiver of the Whitehead Fuel Company and the Iowa and Illinois Coal Company, in behalf of the creditor of the insolvent concern, the Atlantic Trust Company of New York. Osgood controlled the company a year ago. He is a millionaire now, and is traveling in Europe.

WHITE PLAINS (N. Y.) May 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. John Brown of White Plains, who died today, weighed five hundred pounds and was the heaviest woman in Westchester county. A special coffin is being built for her and two graves are being dug. It will be necessary to tear down part of the house where the funeral will be held in order to get the coffin in and out.

Casino and Hotel Shaken to Foundations, and Debris Sent Many Yards.

Similar Explosion Occurred at Tom Taggart's Place a Short Time Ago.

WEST BADEN (Ind.) May 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] While the clubhouse and bowling alleys of the West Baden Hotel Company were filled with guests last night there was a terrific explosion in the building, shaking it and the hotel adjoining to their foundations, breaking a large hole in the floor of the bowling alley, smashing the windows into atoms and sending debris a hundred yards in all directions. Many of the windows in the hotel were broken; panes of glass were cracked in buildings 300 feet away.

The explosion caused a panic among the guests in the club rooms and alleys and also in the hotel and hundreds rushed, badly frightened, from the buildings. The greatest confusion prevailed throughout the resort for more than an hour.

The reason for the wholesale attempt at murder is unknown but it is surmised that the dynamiter is a person or persons who have some grudge against the resort. Some weeks ago a similar explosion occurred at Tom Taggart's French Lick resort.

A part of the Casino was torn away by the explosion and though debris have been employed no clue to the perpetrators has been secured.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—A.M.] NEW YORK, May 25.—The appellate division of the Supreme Court today handed down a decision discharging from custody George W. Perkins, whom the Supreme Court had held to await the action of the grand jury on a technical charge of grand larceny in connection with the campaign contributions of the New York Life Insurance Company to the Republican National Committee.

Dist. Atty. Jerome, upon hearing the court's decision discharging Perkins, said: "I shall appeal this case to the court of appeals and get a decision there."

NEW YORK, May 25.—Vice-President Eldridge of the Mutual Reserve Life Insurance Company explained today that the closing of their offices in England was because the new laws of New York made it unprofitable to secure new business.

FREIGHT REDUCTION.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 25.—The Southern Pacific and Santa Fe and the Armour and Santa Fe refrigerator car lines have announced a considerable reduction in refrigerator or icing on green fruit shipments from California points to Chicago and New York for the deciduous-fruit shipping season, which has just opened.

Orchardists and the railroad freight people state that the green fruit shipments East this season will be very large and give promise of amounting to 7000 carloads, including heavy consignments of grapes during the late summer and fall months. They estimate the savings in value of these shipments at something like $12,000,000 or $14,000,000.

There are still 5000 cars of oranges to be shipped East, while the number already forwarded amounts to 25,000. These 30,000 cars represent 10,000,000 boxes and the railroad people say these shipments will average $2 a box, or a total of $20,000,000 for the season.

Supreme Court Decides He Did Not Commit Grand Larceny With Insurance Funds.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—A.M.] NEW YORK, May 25.—The appellate division of the Supreme Court today handed down a decision discharging from custody George W. Perkins, whom the Supreme Court had held to await the action of the grand jury on a technical charge of grand larceny in connection with the campaign contributions of the New York Life Insurance Company to the Republican National Committee.

Dist. Atty. Jerome, upon hearing the court's decision discharging Perkins, said: "I shall appeal this case to the court of appeals and get a decision there."

NEW YORK, May 25.—Vice-President Eldridge of the Mutual Reserve Life Insurance Company explained today that the closing of their offices in England was because the new laws of New York made it unprofitable to secure new business.

FREIGHT REDUCTION.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 25.—The Southern Pacific and Santa Fe and the Armour and Santa Fe refrigerator car lines have announced a considerable reduction in refrigerator or icing on green fruit shipments from California points to Chicago and New York for the deciduous-fruit shipping season, which has just opened.

Orchardists and the railroad freight people state that the green fruit shipments East this season will be very large and give promise of amounting to 7000 carloads, including heavy consignments of grapes during the late summer and fall months. They estimate the savings in value of these shipments at something like $12,000,000 or $14,000,000.

There are still 5000 cars of oranges to be shipped East, while the number already forwarded amounts to 25,000. These 30,000 cars represent 10,000,000 boxes and the railroad people say these shipments will average $2 a box, or a total of $20,000,000 for the season.

San Francisco Debris Removers Turned Down.

M. H. De Young Leads Opposition to Burnham Plan.

Drawing Plans and Letting of Contracts Continue.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

SAN FRANCISCO, May 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The first strike to occur since the fire has been recorded. Workers employed by the John Kelo Company, which has the contract to remove the debris from the site of Zellerbach & Sons' paper warehouse at Battery and Jackson streets, demanded an increase of wages from $1.75 to $3 a day. This was refused, and they quit work. The men were employed loading dirt and bricks into cars. The site is being cleared for the erection of a seven-story building.

There is an insurrection in the ranks of the buildings trades men. It results from the action of P. H. McCarthy in declaring at a meeting of the Finance Committee that $4 a day would be satisfactory compensation for bricklayers doing emergency work. McCarthy was caught off his guard when he made this announcement, as he was late in arriving at the meeting place of the committee, and the bricklayers, led by Louis Levy, secretary of the Board of Public Works, had just made a plea for the granting of $4 a day to the men.

McCarthy was caught off his guard when he made this announcement, as he was late in arriving at the meeting place of the committee, and the bricklayers, led by Louis Levy, secretary of the Board of Public Works, had just made a plea for the granting of $4 a day to the men.

Down town Property Owners' Association, who is leading the opposition to the Burnham plan for the new city, has succeeded in enlisting a large number of capitalists to aid in his campaign. Mr. De Young asserts that, but for the delay resulting from the discussion of various plans for the beautifying of the city, many a site in the burned district would have been cleared by this time and the erection of buildings begun.

"We have waited long enough for the supervisors to lay down the laws for the rebuilding of the burned district," said De Young. "The Burnham plan is ridiculous and absolutely out of the question, especially that portion that makes proposed changes in the downtown district. Street widening, the widening of Geary street would be not only absolutely unnecessary, but almost criminal. Street widening is enough for commercial purposes, and to transform it into a boulevard would be ruinous to many of us, and of benefit to none."

APARTMENT-HOUSE PLANS. Plans have been drawn and the contract let for the erection of an apartment-house that will be the equal of anything of its kind in the city. It will be on the northeast corner of Mason and Sacramento streets—on the same hill that the Fairmont adorns. E. A. Deniche, who has the contract, is a San Francisco architect. The apartment-house will contain 300 rooms, a grill and two restaurants. It will be a class A structure, and the total cost will exceed $1,000,000.

The San Francisco Gas and Electric Company will construct a $1,000,000 reconstruction of its buildings destroyed or damaged by earthquakes or fire. A modern office building of steel and stone will be built on the corner of Post street. A number of light and power plants must be rebuilt.

Forty wholesale firms are erecting temporary buildings in the vicinity of the Union Iron Works. This district was selected by the Board of Trade, which has its offices in the center of the new wholesale district. The new buildings will be erected on a half-acre, which will be a sort of a nucleus for the new district.

The Southern Pacific is proceeding with the construction of the bay shore cut-off, which will connect the Fourth and Townsend-street yards with the main line of the Coast division. The work, which involves the excavation of several tunnels, will cost $2,000,000.

GIANT SKATING RINK. D. Hallahan, formerly of the Fair Arcade on Market street, and C. H. South of New York have leased an entire block opposite the entrance to the Golden Gate Park Panhandle, and will install an immense amusement place. A space 4,000 feet square will be devoted to a skating rink, and, in addition, there will be large public halls, suitable for dancing and for political conventions. Already the transaction has been completed.

The Novelty Theater Company will put up a permanent building at the northwest corner of Post and Steiner streets, a block from where the new Alcazar is now being erected. This new building will be a two-story structure in the Western Addition, which has never before been invaded by the actor folk.

San Francisco is to have a novel temporary hotel. The Board of Park Commissioners has granted the Hotel St. Francis Company the right to erect on Union Square, in front of the St. Francis, a structure containing 200 rooms, for the accommodation of the former guests of this fashionable hotel. The dining-room, kitchen and baths of the St. Francis are in good condition, and the proposed temporary quarters will be a boon to care for a large number of guests.

ELECTRICITY REPLACES CABLE. The United Railroads is losing no time in transforming its cable lines into a part of its vast electric system. Already the transformation has been made on a portion of Hayes street, and within a week electric cars will be running the full length of Hayes, Haight, Sutter, McAllister and other thoroughfares. The former cable cars, which were formerly used to haul the cable cars, will be used to haul the electric cars.

Fifty thousand dollars will cover the damage done by the earthquake to the buildings in Golden Gate Park, and this sum was voted yesterday by the Park Commissioners. Fortunately, the treasury building, which housed the funds, and the work of rebuilding the buildings will be commenced at once. The museum is badly wrecked and the fine building at the children's playground collapsed entirely.

The Dupont Street Improvement Association is making elaborate plans for the rebuilding of Chinatown. It is virtually certain that the Chinese will return to their old quarters. It is proposed to make the Montezuma section an attractive tourist area as it was in the past, not by reason of its rookeries and underground labyrinth, but because of its architectural beauty. The association, which is interesting property owners in its plans, proposes to make the new Chinatown a typical oriental city architecturally, and to surround it with a boulevard. BERNHARDT THANKS ENGINE HOODOOED.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)

ANKATO (Kan.) May 15.—One of the trucks of the special train carrying Sarah Bernhardt and her company broke two miles from here this afternoon, delaying the train several hours. No serious damage was done.

A special carrying a hundred members of the Omaha Commercial Club on an excursion through the State was following, but was flagged in time to prevent a collision.

Bernhardt was wild with excitement and ran back and forth between her car and the locomotive. She demanded a new locomotive, even after the derailed engine was replaced on the tracks. She claimed the locomotive was hoodooed and refused to permit her train to go ahead. The tender of the locomotive of Bernhardt's train ran along the ties half a mile, the locomotive finally leaving the rails, but remaining upright.

The road was blocked several hours.

RAIN DRENCHES REFUGEES.

UNSEASONABLE DOWNPOUR AT SAN FRANCISCO.

Thousands Who Did Not Count on Excessively from Exposure. Soldiers Compel Trenches to Be Dug to Carry Off Surplus Water.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)

SAN FRANCISCO, May 15.—Rain has been falling here for the past twenty hours, causing great discomfort and not a little misery to the thousands of refugees compelled by the recent disaster to live in the open. The storm started in to be what was apparently a passing shower, but as the afternoon wore on the precipitation settled itself into a cold, steady drizzle, which continued throughout the night and promises to last throughout today.

This is a most unusual occurrence for this season of the year, as under normal conditions, the rainy period should have been passed some weeks ago. Because of the weather, the refugees were ill prepared to meet the emergency. Thousands of the refugees, camped in the open squares and on the streets, were over, and who have taken little care to make their tents or shacks waterproof, suffered excessively from the exposure.

The storm was heavier than any downpour since the great fire, and was the more disastrous because it fell in temperature it brought with it. The keenest suffering was experienced by those refugees who have erected temporary shacks on vacant lots throughout the city. For the most part, these abodes are little better than lean-tos, whose roofs are formed by sheets of tin or corrugated iron, while blankets or any other available material suffice for walls.

From the fact that the streets were flooded with water, it is evident that the ground floors of the miserable little temporary dwellings, which were built on the ruins of the old buildings, were flooded. The water, forming puddles for which no trenches had been provided as drains. In most of these places bedding was soaked, and the occupants made little attempt to secure sleep.

In Golden Gate Park, Jefferson Square and a few other of the locations where the military are in command, conditions were better. Many of the tents were provided with board floors, and the occupants were able to sleep. In some of the military camps, soldiers compelled regulation trenches to be dug, which drained off all the surplus water.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS. A constitutional amendment along the lines of the suggestion, permitting the city to engage in the purchase and sale of property, will be incorporated in the call for the special session of the Legislature, Judge Davis, member of the committee on the subject, announced today.

The people of California are to be given an opportunity to vote on the proposition of striking out the Constitutional Section 6, of Article 13, which provides for the taxation of mortgaged property. When the matter was taken up at this morning's meeting of the committee engaged in the preparation of the call for the special session of the Legislature, it was determined to face the matter frankly and to give the people an opportunity to strike out the section in its entirety.

DEATH LIST NOW 402. According to the records to date in the coroner's office, the deaths from the fire and earthquake are 402. The last name added to those who forfeited their lives in the disaster is that of Mrs. Josephine Taylor, whose charred remains were recovered from the ruins of a building at the northeast corner of Sixth and Polson streets yesterday afternoon. The remains of Mrs. Josephine Taylor were found Wednesday in the ruins of her home, 448 Natoma street, which was crushed April 18 by a falling wall of an adjoining brick building. It afterward caught fire and was destroyed.

From the ruins at Third and Minna streets yesterday the bones of Michael Canara and his wife, who conducted a vegetable stand at that place, were recovered and removed to the Morgue.

The remains of John Byrne have been found in the pile of ruins where his house formerly stood, No. 113 Natoma street.

The remains of Fred H. Stanley, a letter carrier, who was killed when his car was struck by a trolley car, were found in the ruins of his home, 448 Natoma street, which was crushed April 18 by a falling wall of an adjoining brick building. It afterward caught fire and was destroyed.

UNITED TO SUPERVISE DEBRIS. In order to simplify matters in the work of hauling debris from the city, the interested roads, which have laid tracks on various streets for that purpose, are agreed to let the United Railroads take charge of the work. That company will keep a separate account, as if it were a new corporation organized for the purpose, and make reports to the roads concerned. This agreement was reached at a meeting of representatives of the Southern Pacific, the Santa Fe, the Western Pacific, the Ocean Shore, and the United Railroads.

The other roads are to furnish the locomotives and cars and engineers, firemen, and brakemen to run the trains.

A. H. Stephens, superintendent of the United Railroads, is making elaborate plans for the rebuilding of Chinatown. It is virtually certain that the Chinese will return to their old quarters. It is proposed to make the Montezuma section an attractive tourist area as it was in the past, not by reason of its rookeries and underground labyrinth, but because of its architectural beauty. The association, which is interesting property owners in its plans, proposes to make the new Chinatown a typical oriental city architecturally, and to surround it with a boulevard. It is said that enough owners of Chin-the Railway Mail Service, has entered into a temporary contract with the Missouri Cattle Company for the use of mobile service between the main office and stations A. C. G. H. M. and J. and between the main office and the ferry station. The idea is an entirely new one and San Francisco is said to be the first city in the country to inaugurate such a service. The contract was made by the Railway Mail Service, which is a part of the United States Postal Service.

For the murder of H. E. Tilden, E. S. Boynton, T. Vance and George M. Boynton were yesterday held to answer before the Superior Court without bonds by Police Judge Edward Shortall.

Thursday, on the witness stand, Mrs. Lange complained that on the day following their marriage her husband had failed to smother her with the regular domestic salutation. Today under cross-examination she admitted that she had Stirred by the assaults on women, which constantly increases in all parts of Chicago, Chief Collins today declared himself in favor of capital punishment for men who commit such dastardly deeds. LOGS MENACE SHIPPING. Deloit of Raft Which Went to Pieces Encountered by Liner Hongkong Near the Farallones. (BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.) SAN FRANCISCO, May 15.—Capt. Ernest Bent of the Japanese liner Hongkong, which arrived from the Orient yesterday, reports that his ship encountered a large number of logs thirty miles beyond the Farallones. Some of the logs are of immense size and formed part of the raft which left Astoria May 6, in tow of the steamer Francis H. Leggett. The Leggett subsequently lost the raft, which went to pieces, to the great peril of coastwise shipping. The logs are scattered across the entrance to this harbor, and are causing much concern in shipping circles. Launched head-on against the hull of a vessel, the largest of these logs would tear a hole in the stoutest plates or disable the propeller of any ship coming in contact with them. Capt. Bent has made a report to the United States Light House Board.

IT PAYS

to buy Mennen's BORATED TAL-
CUM because of its perfection and purity.
But it does not pay to sell Mennen's POWDER nearly as well, as it pays to sell an imperfect and impure substitute which, costing about half the cost of MEN-
NEN'S, yields the dealer double profit.

The "just as good" with which some dealers try to palm off a substitute is true any way. If it's only "just as good" for the dealer why push the sale. If it's only "just as good" for the buyer why risk an unknown preparation for Mennen's?

There's nothing just as good as MEN-NEN'S BORATED POWDER, and the dealer who says there is, risks his customer's skin and safety to make an extra profit on a sale.

Have you tried Mennen's VIOLET
BORATED TALCUM TOILET POWDER? Ladies partial to violet perfume will find Mennen's Violet Powder fragrant with the odor of fresh plucked Parma Violets.

Long-Sought Husband Dead?

The police now believe that the long search of Mrs. Sarah Goldman for her missing husband is at an end, and that S. Goldman, who dropped dead on the street in Montreal, Canada, January 5, was her husband. The woman has sought him more than a year. The description of the man who was found was her husband's exactly with that of the man dead in Colorado. He left a large stock of merchandise, for which the authorities have never been able to find an owner. The case is to be investigated, and if the expected is proven, the property will be turned over to Mrs. Goldman.

Notifier Sued.

Charles H. Gleim, a lumber broker of Oregon, has brought suit in the Federal Court against the D. L. Notifier Lumber Company for $24,000, allegedly due for lumber taken from the plaintiff without his knowledge. Additional personal damages are also requested. Mr. Gleim is represented by Attorneys Dunning and Lane. It seems that a few weeks ago 470,000 feet of lumber was shipped to San Pedro to Mr. Gleim by his statement, this lumber was taken without his knowledge and appropriated to the use of the Notifier people, whose yards, he believes, were in need of such a cargo. They, in turn, protest that the lumber is theirs.

In the ring shortly before the fight was declared off. Herrera and his handlers in his corner. Mjoro sits on the rope, Aurelio in the chair, and Jacobs leans on the rope at Herrera's left.

DIES AT RINGSIDE DOES PRIZE FIGHT.

Yellow Streak and Sickening Fiasco Stirs Thousands' Wrath.

Herrera Refuses to Do Battle, Though Nelson Pleads, and Has to Be Hustled Away to Escape Mobbing by Angry Crowd—Money Back to All the Spectators. McCarey the Heaviest Loser.

WHILE a scared, dull-witted half-breed Indian, sat pouting in a corner, afraid, the prize fight game for Los Angeles, it not for the Coast, died in slow agony last night. After all this pilgrimage of the sports from every quarter of the continent, Herrera went to the ringside last night and refused to fight. Clinging to some sort of fool notion of his manager's about weights, the Indian alternated between lying in his dressing room under a pile of blankets and sitting sullenly in a corner of the ring, refusing to talk, refusing to fight, refusing to be weighed.

That the yellow streak may be held up for the sporting world to look at, sports with overcoats burst a little tow-headed boy, looking drawn and wan; there was a singular childlike expression about him. They received him with hisses as he climbed into the ring. BATTLE'S SPEECH. He stood before them like a pliant child, pleading to be heard. He held up a scared, quivering fist for silence. They would not hear him at first, but kept bawling and howling at him. One man, who was drunk, stood by the ringside bawling like a bull.

"Aw gentlemen, my gentlemen, aw tellers," he kept pleading. When at last the hissing died away, it was not the fighter, champion and man of the world. He had gone back in his earnestness to a pleading little slummy. "I ain't running out of nothin'," he pleaded. "I ain't scared of nothin'."

"I went up to McCarey's to be weighed and some one stuck something in the scales and put 'em on de bum." "We went over to de bath shop and I weighed. Gentlemen, I weighed in under weight. A crowd gathered outside back door and I couldn't get him to weigh."

"I'll fight him if he is within five pounds of my weight." From that on "Bat" was the hero. He's a winning little cuss. HERRERA HUGS HIS KNEE. After a long interval, in which excited messengers came bearing in and telling what was happening in the dressing rooms, Herrera crawled back into the ring and sat down in his corner, and the Battle to his corner—and there he both sat and stood, and expressed about "Bat," but Herrera sat alone.

He looked a typical Indian, his little eyes twinkling wickedly, and his face set in an immovable and expressionless. He was hugging his knee with his clasped hands, a position from which he never moved until he got another inspiration and climbed out of the ring again. HE'D FIGHT EITHER. Suddenly a handsome little fellow, flushed with excitement, with hot, eager eyes, burst into the ring, thrusting the lotteries out of his way. "I'll fight either one of 'em," he said.

"Eddie Hanlon wants to build another row of flats," remarked a sporting man in a stage whisper. Which took the impressiveness out of that offer. Little Hanlon rushed furiously about the ring, pleading to be allowed to fight in place of one of them. He hunk over his head and pleaded with him as though he were the natural one to turn to. Shortly afterward the link announcer clasped a clean-looking Jewish boy fervently by the hand, announced that Abe Attell would fight either man, and ask no questions about weight. Peeble cheers were the only answer.

Over on one side of the ring the telegraph instruments were edifying the waiting throngs in a hundred cities of the piggish obstinacy of this Mexican. Their clicking died to a spasmodic spatter and stopped. Furious gestures toward the Mexican's corner. CROWD WAITS IN RAIN. A very large crowd sat there for hours watching this disgusting exhibition. The long line of ticket buyers streaked far out into the rain two hours before the time for the fight that never came off.

The crowd had cheered a big Jeffries, who sat with his hat gloomily pulled down over his ears; had gazed with awe at the herd of sporting reporters—a very busy and overweighted looking set. Came a stir at the door, and a knot of men bundled in overcoats hurried rapidly down the main aisle and disappeared into the dressing rooms at the rear. The pale fellow with the big mouth, at the front of the procession, was Herrera. It crept around that Battling Nelson had tampered with the scales and would not fight; had fled to a Turkish bath establishment. Through the uproar, busy individuals buzzed back to the dressing rooms and watched the prostrate form of the Mexican sweating under blankets until they were driven out by Herrera's brother Mauro. Finally he entered the ring, sat awhile with his seconds, and crawled out again. A number of imposing sporting reporters clambered into the ring, solemnly shook hands with Herrera, and clambered down again. When Herrera had gone, another stir came, and out of another flurry of

VAIN APPEAL TO HERRERA.

Battling Nelson Pleads With Him to Stop Up and Go Business.

Battling Nelson pleaded with Herrera to "make good"—but in vain. Here is what was said:

Nelson: See here, Aurelio, old kid, what's the matter with you? Why can't we get together and have this fight? Those people are waiting for us out there, and have paid their good money to see us go on. What do you weigh—135, 140, or what? I'll fight you if you weigh under 140 pounds. That's fair, ain't it? Why not step on the scales and have this thing? Be a square guy and come on and fight. I have everything to lose and you everything to win. This is not acting right. Are you afraid to get on the scales?

Herrera: No, I'm not afraid to get on the scales, but I was there to weigh in at 6 o'clock and the scales were not right and that's all there is to it.

Nelson: Well, I weighed in after 6 o'clock and was still under weight, and you ought to be willing to get on the scales and let the crowd see what you weigh. If you are under weight, what are you afraid of? I'll fight you if you are 140. Give me your hand like a good, square kid and let's get into the ring.

Herrera: Oh, I'm sick. I hurt my foot. Nelson: Stop kidding. (Crossing Herrera's face with his hand and smiling good-naturedly.) Give me your hand, old pal, and I'll go dress for the ring.

Herrera: No, I will not get onto the scales. Nelson: Well, let's put the boys out of here and you and I fight it out in the dressing room. (Another appealing stroking of Herrera's face and a clasp of the hand.)

Herrera: No, I'll fight you in the ring, but won't weigh in. That settles it. Nelson: Well, old kid, I believe I could beat you anyway, at any weight. Let me hit you one little one on the jaw, lightly, just to say I hit you, and you come back.

Herrera: If you say you'll fight anyway, that settles it. Give me your hand on it. Nelson: Aurelio, I was only kidding. Be a good guy and come on and get on the scales. I just want to see what you weigh. I believe I could beat you anyway. Well, give me your hand, old pal, and I'll go. There are no hard feelings on my part.

Dane boy, with unconscious irony, "I ain't going to hurt him. Haven't we slept together and trained together?" But for that time there was nothing doing.

HUSTLING OUT HERRERA. Finally, when the crowd had grown sick of it all, the announcer motioned for silence and begged them all to take their seats. "In five minutes, the fight will begin," he said.

Nelson had already left the hall. The crowd jumped up to see him come back, but he did not come. They sat down and minute after minute of eager silence dragged by. Then the announcer climbed back and his sharp, clear voice told that the fight was off, and that the money would be given back.

Then they realized the cause of the wait. They had played for time to hustle out Herrera lest the mob of infuriated sports should tear him to pieces. The sickening event California ever saw ended with an angry

VEXING PROBLEMS BEFORE THE CITY.

Twenty-three Square Miles of Suburbs Are Clamoring for Immediate Annexation—Consolidation and Charter Revision—Local Trolley Extension Stopped.

NOT content to wait for the action of a State Legislature, or for the final verdict of the Consolidation Commission, suburbs of Los Angeles, north, east, south and west, are struggling to secure immediate entrance within our gates.

Wary of their sojourn in the wilderness within sight of the promised land, they are clamoring vigorously to be annexed. Los Angeles is the Mecca of the whole countryside from the mountains to the sea. Every cross-roads village within twenty miles of our outskirts knows of the river of delight that is leaping from the snow-capped Sierras bound oceanward and each seeks to share the golden glory of the flower, and the fruit and the vine that will crown its coronation.

Formal application for annexation has been made to the Council by residents of twenty-three square miles of "contiguous territory." Our neighbors have seen a fifty-foot lot in the heart of Los Angeles sell for more than a whole section of land without her gates; and they believe that if they become a part of the great metropolis of the Southland, they will participate in this prosperity.

For them city taxes have no terrors. Under our present charter, Los Angeles has privileges that are withheld from less fortunate communities. The autonomy enjoyed under that charter has made this city one of the favored municipalities of the country.

The suburbs knocking at our gates contain an aggregate of twenty-three square miles of territory, one-half our present area, and probably not more than 12,000 inhabitants, or one-twentieth our population. The assessed valuation of the contiguous land is but one-twentieth that of the municipality.

FALLACIOUS ARGUMENTS. Of sewers, there are none; and no part of the territory owns its water supply, although all receive water from auxiliary systems. The argument used by the committee from these sections before the Council Committee of the Whole was that they desire to participate in the prosperity which will attend our new water supply, and they are willing to pay their share for bringing the Owens River to our gates. They also argued that they could not compel the city to give them water until we have enough for ourselves and to spare, and promised not to ask it.

As presented by their orators the theory is beautiful; but it is negated in fact by the fact that they had no authority to make such representations, that once a part of the municipality these people would have the same rights and privileges as the persons living on the old pueblo site, the part that has been Los Angeles for almost two centuries.

All these things the districts would have a right to demand of the municipality, if annexed. The only return made would be the amount paid by them in taxes. On their assessed valuation of $10,000,000 these districts would pay the city $100,000 in taxes each year, in return for a territory equal to one-half its present area.

This $100,000 is less than one-fifth of the cost of running the city this year. The Water Board has expressed the opinion that our present water supply is inadequate to care for all this additional territory. The average citizen has little comprehension of how close we are living up to our water supply at the present time. The rainfall last winter was exceptionally heavy, yet the river is lower than it was at this time last year. And the population within our present limits has increased 20 per cent.

All the territory now applying for admission is included in the general consolidation scheme. The Consolidation Commission has recommended that the city consent to annex any contiguous land between the city and the sea that desires to become a part of the municipality. But conservative business men are asking each other whether it would not be the part of wisdom to go slow on annexation, until water is actually flowing through the great Owens River conduit.

All the contiguous territory seeking admission lies in the line of progress. In time it will form a part of the great metropolis of the Southland. But it is plain that for several years the city would expend five dollars to improvements on the territory, if annexed, for every one received in taxes. The main question at issue, as viewed by men of affairs, is whether it is a wise policy to load on the municipality the additional expense until we are across the desert with our water supply.

In order to become a part of the city the territory must first file with the City Clerk a petition containing the names of one-fifth of the voters of Los Angeles, asking that an annexation election be held.

This petition compels the Council to call a special election. It is so mandated in a State statute. At this election a majority of the electors, both in the city and in the applicant territory, must vote for annexation.

Four districts have applied for annexation, but only one has filed a petition containing the requisite number of names. Here are the suburbs that have made formal application to the municipality for admission:

THE APPLICANTS. (1.) The Colegrove district, embracing about seven square miles of territory lying west of the city and north of Wilshire boulevard. It embraces Griffith Park and a greater portion of what is known as the Los Feliz school district. It extends to the corporate limits of Hollywood. A part of the territory is divided into town lots. It embraces a portion of the fine residence section, and is supplied with gas and electric lights. The estimated population is 6000.

(2.) Four square miles of more or less thickly settled territory lying west of the city and between Wilshire boulevard and Jefferson street. This territory embraces a considerable portion of thickly settled district known as Arlington Heights, and other valuable land just outside the city limits. In a part of this the streets are graded and an electric lighting system is already established.

(3.) An irregular district lying to the north of the city, known as the Highland Park and Eagle Rock country. This district extends to Glendale, to Pasadena, and to South Pasadena. Its northern boundary is the irregular line, following in the words of its annexation committee, "the natural contour of the mountain tops."

When this territory was proposed, a Councilman remarked to the committee that the engines would probably have a strenuous time chasing about the mountain peaks in response to alarms of fire.

(4.) A stretch of territory on Boyle Heights, lying immediately east of the eastern city limits and north of Stephenson avenue. According to Councilman Blanchard, this district is less than a mile wide, and is already built up as a continuation of Boyle Heights.

HAS THE NAMES. The Colegrove district annexation committee has secured the requisite number of signatures to its application. Under the State law, the Council must call a special election immediately to decide whether the territory shall be received. Committees representing all the other outlying districts are at work securing signatures of residents of Los Angeles to their applications. It was the intention of the Council to hold off the Colegrove district election until the other applications are received. It hoped to hold all the elections at once and save additional expense. But a legal question has arisen as to whether more than one of these elections can be held on the same day, whether two or more annexation proposals can be placed on the same ballot. It is now very likely that each application will mean a separate election. In order to become mandatory, an application must be signed by 600 registered voters of Los Angeles. To obtain these signatures, the committees pay solicitors 5 cents for each

KEEPS THE MARRIAGE A SECRET
TILL AFTERWARD.

Parents in Hermosa Receive the News of Nuptials After the Troth Has Been Plighted—Leaves Seminary to See Her Folks, but Goes Instead With Her Lover.

(REDONDO, May 10.—) A marriage license was issued Wednesday at Santa Ana for Albert N. Caldwell of Anaheim and Miss Violet Dosta. Miss Dosta, the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dosta of Hermosa, and has just passed her eighteenth birthday. She has been attending a seminary in Los Angeles. She left the seminary Wednesday, having permission to visit her parents at the beach, but instead made the trip to Santa Ana, where she and Mr. Caldwell were married. Mr. Dosta received a letter from his daughter Thursday, stating that she was married, and asking her parents' forgiveness. She said she was on her way to San Diego, and that they would soon return home to receive the parental blessing. The parents seem to know nothing concerning the young man, and had no idea that their daughter was keeping company with any one. It is stated that the groom is twenty-eight years old. The bride is an heir to the large Dosta estate, just being settled in Los Angeles, and is a beautiful girl.

NIGHT ORGIE, THEN DEATH.

THREE RANCHERS GO DOWN IN BURNING HOUSE.

Midnight Carousal Has Tragic Ending Near San Diego—Liquor and an Overturned Lamp Responsible. Charred and Blackened Bodies Seen Amid the Ashes.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—A.M.) SAN DIEGO, May 10.—Lying under a pile of debris in the cellar of what was the ranch house of Pat Sweeney, a prosperous and well-known rancher of Vista, are the charred bodies of three men, and two companions of last night, Ned Robertson, an employee of Sweeney, and Jim Carter, one of the best known young ranchmen of that section. Liquor and an overturned lamp are responsible for their death. The house was totally consumed by the flames. About midnight the three men and Henry Thomas and a few others, were enjoying a jovial evening together, as had been their custom. The four sat together long after the others had gone, and, according to the story of Thomas, the only survivor of the tragedy, all had been drinking freely. While the carousal was at its height, Thomas says, the lamp was overturned. Almost immediately the room was in flames, and the men were in no condition to extricate themselves. Whether the flames were caused by the lamp or by the men's carelessness, is unknown. Thomas managed to reach the open air and called to the others, but there was no response. When neighbors arrived at the scene, the flames were licking the last of the ruins. This morning the remains of the three men were to be seen, blackened and partially consumed, lying in the cellar, where they had fallen when the floor burned away beneath them. The coroner has gone from this city to view the remains. All of them were unmarried. Sweeney was about 45 years old and had been living on the ranch for a number of years. He had no relatives in this part of the country except a cousin at Vista. Robertson and Carter were about 25 years of age. Robertson had a place of his own adjoining that of Sweeney, and was an Englishman. Carter's home was also nearby. He leaves a mother, a sister and a brother, with whom he was living. He was a half-brother of Thomas.

NOW A WOOL MARKET.

As Result of Changes Wrought by San Francisco Disaster, Stockton Expects to Be Main Mart.

STOCKTON, May 10.—As a result of the recent disaster in San Francisco, Stockton has temporarily become the wool market of California, and it is not improbable that it may continue to be for some time. Stockton is a freight terminal of two trans-continental railway lines and of navigable water. It is centrally located as regards the source of wool supply; has warehouse facilities at low rent and its banking facilities are ample. It was these points that determined the question of a location for the new wool center. The leading grading, packing and scouring firm of the State was the first to move to Stockton. This was followed by such well-known buyers as S. Koshland & Co., E. H. Tryon, C. H. Moss, P. R. Findlay & Co., Santana & Perry and Dickens & Kearn, all of whom have opened offices in the neighborhood of the wool warehouses. Within thirty days after the San Francisco disaster, Stockton thus became the wool market of California. Within this time 7000 bags of wool, weighing over two million pounds and being about one-fourth of the entire clip, was in the warehouse, and the work of grading, packing and scouring was under way. It is estimated that at least 15,000 bags of wool, valued at nearly a million dollars, will be handled through Stockton this spring. The city, in all its branches, is giving employment to between sixty and seventy-five hands. Today the State's new wool market is one of the busiest of Stockton's many industries.

STEALS AMERICAN FLAGS.

Daring Thief Works Under Bright Light at Sixth and Broadway and Gets Starry Banners.

Two large and handsome American flags were stolen Thursday night from the military establishment of Miss A. L. Swobell, at No. 55 South Broadway. The flags had been draped over the front of the store for Fiesta. When they were put in place large nails were used to hold them firmly, and the thief carefully pulled every nail so as not to damage the banners. To do this it was necessary for him to use a ladder to reach the top of the flags, where they were nailed to the building. The establishment is next to the corner of Sixth and Broadway, and how the thief managed to work without being discovered is difficult to understand. The trick was turned between 10 o'clock at night and 8 o'clock in the morning. The police are working on the case.

They Dined at the Europa Cafe. The two men, who were seen leaving the store at 8 o'clock, were seen again at the Europa Cafe, where they were seen again at 10 o'clock.

HER GOOD WORK DONE.

Well-Known Deaconess, Who Helped Others While Herself Struggling With Disease, Passes Away.

Miss Jennie Draper, a deaconess who for several years had devoted her life to the welfare of others in this city, having come here from Colorado, died yesterday afternoon at her home on North Vermont avenue. Most of the time Miss Draper was given to meeting incoming trains on the Santa Fe Railway and looking after the welfare of women and children who seemed to need her care, upon their arrival in a strange city. She was highly respected by all frequenters of the station and those employed there. She was a devoted Christian and was greatly beloved by all those associated with her. It is sad to state that she was afflicted with dread tuberculosis, and that is what caused her to seek a home in this climate. Almost two years ago she became too weak to endure the work of a deaconess and sent to Kansas for her mother, since which time they have lived together out on the heights in a house built by Miss Draper prior to her mother's arrival. Up to that time she had lived at the Deaconess Home on Hewitt street. Miss Draper was about 30 years of age. The funeral will be held at Pioneer Methodist Church, Dayton Heights, on Monday morning at 10 o'clock.
